HAKONECHLOA

Description

Golden variegated Japanese Hakone grass, vivacious plant, short creeping rhizomes. Delivered as a tuft of grass in a 0.8 litre plastic pot. Hakonechloa macra 'Aureola' adds a burst of colour to Japanese garden flowerbeds and sunny balconies and patios. Its leaves are green in May and turn golden yellow at the end of September. In autumn they're a red colour, transforming to brown in winter. This plant is easy to grow with regular watering and it flowers at the end of summer.
