Description

Small upright deciduous maple having narrow-lobed leaves with lovely pink blush over white with green reticulation. Color holds well through summer. Autumn colr orange to red. Name means "crescent moon" in Japanese. Prefers sun/partial shade. Discovered and introduced by Talon BUCHHOLZ from flora wonder USA.

"In response to the growing demand in Europe for collectible varieties, this year I'm offering high-quality plants at more affordable prices. These young plants, ranging in height from 10 to 20 centimeters, are perfect for enhancing your collection from the very beginning of their development.

Please note: they must remain in their original pots until spring 2026."
