Description

Leaves: greenish pink in spring, and green or brownish pink ribbed with green in summer. In autumn, the leaves turn white ribbed with green, and then they go orange.

"In response to the growing demand in Europe for collectible varieties, this year I'm offering high-quality plants at more affordable prices. These young plants, ranging in height from 10 to 20 centimeters, are perfect for enhancing your collection from the very beginning of their development.

Please note: they must remain in their original pots until spring 2026."
