Description

From spring onwards, this plant catches the eye with its bright lemon-yellow foliage, which gradually turns to a soft green in summer. The striking colour contrast is enhanced by red veins highlighting the leaves in spring, echoing the vivid red stems that stand out beautifully against the light foliage.
Its compact clumping habit, reaching up to 50 cm in height, makes it an ideal choice for shaded borders, garden beds, or container growing on balconies and terraces. From early July, it produces delicate lavender-blue flowers, adding a refined floral touch to its already highly decorative foliage. Additional information Flowering period: Early July Mature height: Up to 50 cm Foliage: Lemon yellow in spring, turning green in summer Stems and veins: Bright red in spring Light requirements: Prefers partial shade Packaging: 2-litre plastic pot
